New York City, May 7, 1917.

To the Federal Council of the Churches
of Christ in America,
In session at Washington, May 8-9, 1917.

Brethren:—

The new Commission on Christian Education of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America is called to meet for organization in New York, Friday, May 11, 1917. At this critical hour in the world's history we realize the vital importance of religious education in any program of reorganization and reconstruction that may follow the present awful tragedy of world-wide ruin.

With a deep sense of the magnitude of the task confronting united Christendom, and conscious of our dependence upon Divine guidance, we confidently believe that the Commission on Christian Education will seriously undertake its proper share of the responsibility devolving upon the Federal Council as it devotes itself to the ministry of consolation and to the re-establishment of the Christian faith and the sense of brotherhood in the hearts of all men.

The world democracy which we believe is to result from this world struggle must be rooted and grounded in the teachings of Jesus and the New Testament, as interpreted and exemplified in the democratic fellowship and co-operative unity of Christian believers. The realization of this hope demands a world-wide program of Christian Education challenging the wisdom and the statesmanship of a united Christianity.

With cordial and fraternal regard,

On behalf of the Commission on Christian Education,

Faithfully yours,

(Signed) HENRY H. MEYER,
Secretary.

The following report urging the imperative necessity of the prohibition of the liquor traffic for the period of the war was adopted:

"The Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, officially representing thirty denominations, with a communicant membership of more than eighteen million, in special session assembled, desires to record its conviction that the immediate prohibition of the liquor traffic as a war measure is essential to the conservation of the economic resources and latent power of the Nation.

"Five eminent economists estimate, on the basis of the latest positive figures available, that seven billion (7,000,000,000) pounds of food materials are annually used in the production of fermented liquors and distilled spirits. Two university professors of physiology estimate that, eliminating the amount necessary for the production of denatured alcohol, the fuel value of the remainder would supply the energy requirement of seven million (7,000,000) for a year. The Brewers' Year Book declares that it requires the toil of seventy-five thousand (75,000) farmers for six months to furnish these foodstuffs. If the labor of these men could be used for food instead of liquor it would measurably relieve the situation produced by the present scarcity of food.

"There are employed in the manufacture of liquor 62,920 wage-earners. These men are needed in legitimate industry, and they should be transferred to such occupations as will make their labor a blessing to the people, instead of a curse.

"In the face of the Nation's need to conserve all its man power and every bit of its foodstuff, we urge the imperative necessity of at once stopping this waste of them in a traffic whose destructive effects upon the national life and well-being are generally acknowledged.

"These economic considerations increase the moral and religious conviction with which the churches urge the abolition of the liquor traffic."

It was

VOTED: To adjourn.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. George Elliott.

Session of Wednesday, May 9, 10:00 A.M.

President Frank Mason North presiding.

The service of worship was conducted by Miss Louise Holmquist.

A report of the Committee on the Celebration of the Quadricentennial of the Protestant Reformation was presented by Rev. Howard R. Gold, the Secretary of the Committee.

It was

VOTED: To receive the report, which was as follows:

Report of Special Committee on the Celebration of the Quadricentennial of the Protestant Reformation

The purpose of your Committee is to coordinate or parallel as much as possible the plans and activities of the committees on celebration appointed by the constituent bodies of the Council. Many of the bodies have such committees at work and, where the denomination as such is not developing extended plans, boards and societies are taking up the observance in their own spheres.

The most active committees are those of the Lutheran, Presbyterian and Reformed bodies, and some of the larger memorial undertakings are the raising of a Jubilee fund of $10,000,000 by the Lutherans, the placing of a Bible Chair in each Presbyterian College, and the erection of the $100,000 Schaff Memorial Building in Philadelphia by the Reformed Church in the U. S., which is also raising a Jubilee fund of $1,000,000 for education.

These and other committees are producing literature, lectures, medals, pageants, music, programs, conducting study and lecture courses, and are giving attention to publicity. The Boards of Education are planning for the observance in their colleges and the state and private universities will do the same.

Interdenominational agencies are recognizing the anniversary. The American Bible Society, the World's Sunday School Association, the United Society of Christian Endeavor, the Council of Women for Home Missions, many Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations and others will participate.

The religious press has already given considerable attention in anticipation of the anniversary and numerous papers are now planning special Luther and Reformation numbers. The American Lutheran Survey is carrying a series of articles by leading Reformation scholars of America, among whom are Professors Walker, Emerton, Jacobs, Schaff, Harvey, Rockwell, Monroe, and Preserved Smith.

Many great meetings have already been held and much literature has been distributed and read, but all activities will culminate in October, on or near the 31st, the day when Luther posted the theses. The prospect is that all Protestant churches and Sunday schools and all other organizations will devote at least Sunday, October 28th, to this 400th anniversary.

The public press, under the conditions of the hour, when much news material crowds for the columns, will not assist as largely as it would under other circumstances, but we are gratified with the recognition already given.

Most of the Summer conferences will recognize the anniversary on their programs and steps are taken to accord such recognition at all assemblies.

A word about the timeliness of the celebration. This will be seen best in the light of the purpose and spirit. Realizing the possibility of becoming involved in controversy and giving a negative tone to the anniversary, the Joint Lutheran Committee has urged from the beginning a non-controversial but a positive and constructive celebration. Their purpose is phrased in this slogan:

"To celebrate the Reformation of the Sixteenth Century and to hasten the Transformation of the Twentieth."

The purpose is a review and a reapplication of the principles of the sixteenth century, which were only those of the first, rediscovered. This is endorsed by your Committee.

Justification by faith, the responsibility of the individual conscience, the right of private judgment, freedom of research and freedom of speech—these are the principles won for us by the sixteenth century Reformers. The open Bible, popular education, civil and religious liberty and our free institutions are the products we, especially in America, enjoy to-day.

Your Committee would ask you to recognize whence these come in your own utterances during this year and through the organizations you represent. We value these possessions and it seems that now we as a nation are called upon to defend them and to extend them for ourselves and for others.

In two messages to the churches we have been called upon to hold in trust the principles which are the special care of Protestantism, and to associate ourselves with the suffering men and women of Europe. It seems to me that we would gain strength for the task by cultivating anew fellowship with the heroes and martyrs of the sixteenth century, who were our first great democratic Christian leaders. Our President has already acknowledged this near kinship. Luther's great speech at Worms, in April, 1521, closed thus: "Here I stand. I cannot do otherwise, God help me." President Wilson's momentous address of April, 1917, ended in the language of Luther: "God Helping Her, she can do no other."

Rev. Daniel A. Poling reported the plans of the United Society of Christian Endeavor.

Rev. Paul DeSchweinitz, Chairman of the Conference of Foreign Mission Boards of North America, presented the plans of that body.

President North announced the appointment of President William H. P. Faunce as Chairman of the Commission on International Justice and Good-will.

Fred B. Smith reported the plans of the Inter-Church Federation Congress to be held in Pittsburgh from October 1 to 4, 1917.

Dr. Macfarland introduced Rev. Samuel H. Greene, the pastor of the entertaining church, who made an address of welcome.

It was VOTED: That an invitation be sent to Baron de Cartier de Marchienne, the Minister from Belgium, to attend the meeting of the Council.

It was VOTED: That Chancellor D. S. Stephens, Rev. James M. Philputt, Rev. H. K. Carroll, Bishop J. S. Caldwell and Rev. A. E. Main constitute a committee on Resolutions and Thanks.

It was VOTED: That the report, with the suggestions, be referred to the General Committee.

Rev. J. M. G. Darms made a brief address expressing the loyalty of the German-American people, to which President North made a fitting response.

The minutes of the sessions of Tuesday morning, afternoon and evening were read and approved.

The following statement was presented by Rev. Roy B. Guild, Secretary of the General Committee, and was adopted:

> "When the State compels men to military service, it raises the ancient religious question of freedom of conscience. Churches who have furnished martyrs for this principle are under particular obligation to see that the conscientious objector is allowed such noncombatant service as does not violate his conscience. We, therefore, request the Administrative Committee carefully to consider what practical steps can be taken to secure this end."

The General Secretary presented Ernest P. Bicknell, of the American National Red Cross, who addressed the Council on the work of the organization.

RESOLVED: That the action taken by the Council touching the establishment of zones of safety, and measures of protection of the soldiers and sailors in mobilization camps be referred to the Washington Committee of the Council, with instructions to bring it to the notice of the national authorities and to do all in their power to secure the enactment of its recommendations into law.

Chancellor Stephens presented the following report of the Committee on Resolutions, which was unanimously adopted:

THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS

Your Committee on Resolutions make the following report:

1. We desire first of all to express our gratitude to God for the spiritual atmosphere that has pervaded this historic gathering of the Federal Council. As representatives of American Protestant Churches we face unknown duties in a great crisis of the world's history. We seek God's guidance and He has given us assurance, in the spirit of this meeting, that He is with us.

2. We wish to place on record our appreciation of the offers of the various organizations to cooperate with the Federal Council in providing for the moral, social and spiritual needs of the army, of the navy, and of all who are in need of ministrations of mercy and of relief in this dark hour of the world's history. Among these allied organizations we mention:

Home Missions Council;
Foreign Missions Conference of North America;
Federation of Women's Boards of Foreign Missions of the United States;
Council of Women for Home Missions;
International Committee of Young Men's Christian Associations;
National Board of the Young Women's Christian Associations;
American Bible Society;
World Alliance for Promoting International Friendship through the Churches.

We would also include the other bodies which have reported informally.

3. We wish to express our appreciation of the addresses presented by the speakers on the program at this session of the Council, so well keyed to the high demands of the occasion and so inspiring for the momentous duties that lie before us.

4. We desire to tender to Rev. Samuel H. Greene, Pastor, to the Trustees, to the Organist, and to the members of the Calvary Baptist Church, our sincere thanks for the splendid facilities provided for us in the use of their church for the sessions of this Council.

5. We would also express our grateful appreciation to those who have opened their homes and their hearts in entertainment of the members of this Council.

The Duty of the Church in this

Hour of National Need

A Message from the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America

IN SPECIAL SESSION ASSEMBLED IN WASHINGTON, D. C.

May 8 and 9, 1917

I. OUR SPIRIT AND PURPOSE

After long patience, and with a solemn sense of responsibility, the government of the United States has been forced to recognize that a state of war exists between this country and Germany, and the President has called upon all the people for their loyal support and their wholehearted allegiance. As American citizens, members of Christian Churches gathered in Federal Council, we are here to pledge both support and allegiance in unstinted measure.

We are Christians as well as citizens. Upon us therefore rests a double responsibility. We owe it to our country to maintain intact and to transmit unimpaired to our descendants our heritage of freedom and democracy. Above and beyond this, we must be loyal to our divine Lord, who gave His life that the world might be redeemed, and whose loving purpose embraces every man and every nation.

As citizens of a peace-loving nation, we abhor war. We have long striven to secure the judicial settlement of all international disputes. But since, in spite of every effort, war has come, we are grateful that the ends to which we are committed are such as we can approve. To vindicate the principles of righteousness and the inviolability of faith as between nation and nation; to safeguard the right of all the peoples, great and small alike, to live their life in freedom and peace; to resist and overcome the forces that would prevent the union of the nations in a commonwealth of free peoples conscious of unity in the pursuit of ideal ends—these are aims for which every one of us may lay down his all, even life itself.

We enter the war without haste or passion, not for private or national gain, with no hatred nor bitterness against those with whom we contend.

No man can foresee the issue of the struggle. It will call for all the strength and heroism of which the nation is capable. What now is the mission of the church in this hour of crisis and danger? It is to bring all that is done or planned in the nation's name to the test of the mind of Christ.

That mind upon one point we do not all interpret alike. With sincere conviction some of us believe that it is forbidden the disciple of Christ to engage in war under any circumstances. Most of us believe that the love of all men which Christ enjoins, demands that we defend with all the power given us the sacred rights of humanity. But we are all at one in loyalty to our country, and in steadfast and wholehearted devotion to her service.

As members of the church of Christ, the hour lays upon us special duties:

To purge our own hearts clean of arrogance and selfishness;

To steady and inspire the nation;

To keep ever before the eyes of ourselves and of our allies the ends for which we fight;

To hold our own nation true to its professed aims of justice, liberty and brotherhood;

To testify to our fellow-Christians in every land, most of all to those from whom for the time we are estranged, our consciousness of unbroken unity in Christ;

To unite in the fellowship of service multitudes who love their enemies and are ready to join with them in rebuilding the waste places as soon as peace shall come;

To be diligent in works of relief and mercy, not forgetting those ministries to the spirit to which, as Christians, we are specially committed;

To keep alive the spirit of prayer, that in these times of strain and sorrow men may be sustained by the consciousness of the presence and power of God;

To hearten those who go to the front, and to comfort their loved ones at home;

To care for the welfare of our young men in the army and navy, that they may be fortified in character and made strong to resist temptation;

To be vigilant against every attempt to arouse the spirit of vengeance and unjust suspicion toward those of foreign birth or sympathies;

To protect the rights of conscience against every attempt to invade them;

To maintain our Christian institutions and activities unimpaired, the observance of the Lord's Day and the study of the Holy Scriptures, that the soul of our nation may be nourished and renewed through the worship and service of Almighty God;

To guard the gains of education, and of social progress and economic freedom, won at so great a cost, and to make full use of the occasion to set them still further forward, even by and through the war;

To keep the open mind and the forward look, that the lessons learned in war may not be forgotten when comes that just and sacred peace for which we pray;

Above all, to call men everywhere to new obedience to the will of our Father God, who in Christ has given Himself in supreme self-sacrifice for the redemption of the world, and who invites us to share with Him His ministry of reconciliation.

To such service we would summon our fellow-Christians of every name. In this spirit we would dedicate ourselves and all that we have to the nation's cause. With this hope we would join hands with all men of good-will of every land and race, to rebuild on this war-ridden and desolated earth the commonwealth of mankind, and to make of the kingdoms of the world the Kingdom of the Christ.

II. OUR PRACTICAL DUTIES

ARMY AND NAVY

For the moral and spiritual welfare of the army and navy the churches are in chief measure responsible. They should therefore cultivate a close relationship to the army and navy chaplains who are the accredited ministers of the churches and should dignify and strengthen their service. They should cordially sustain and reinforce the work of the Young Men's Christian Association, which is an especially equipped and well-tried arm of the church for ministering to men in the camp. They should also sympathetically support the plans of the American Bible Society to make the Scriptures available for every soldier and sailor of the army and navy.

THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC

In this time of crisis the Federal Council urges the churches to use their utmost endeavors to secure national prohibition as a war measure, demanded alike by economic, moral and religious considerations. The liquor traffic consumed last year foodstuffs sufficient to feed 7,000,000 men for a year, required the toil of 75,000 farmers for six months to furnish these foodstuffs, engaged 62,920 wage-earners needed in legitimate industry and exacted a heavy toll of life. The nation cannot afford this economic and moral waste.

THE SOCIAL EVIL

War increases lust and its deadly consequences. The efforts of the government, of the Federal Council and of the Young Men's Christian Association to prevent its development in mobilization camps will not fully succeed unless the nearby churches and allied organizations see that vice and liquor are repressed in their communities and unless they assist in providing wholesome social and recreational activities for the men. All the churches will need to watch lest the excitement and strain of the hour lower the sex standards of the community.

RELIEF WORK

The increased suffering of war time demands increased gifts and service. The churches should organize themselves to strengthen the American Red Cross by membership and the preparation of supplies, to care in friendship for all the needs of the families of men in national service, to increase their gifts to foreign war relief and to those European religious bodies which the Federal Council is already assisting.

CHILD WELFARE

To meet the depletion of war the vitality of the rising generation needs to be conserved and developed. It is more important than ever for the churches to aid in removing the community conditions that make for defective lives, and in securing sound measures of health and sanitation, of housing and nourishment, of recreation and education. The mobilization of youth for increased food production affords a starting point for permanent community provision for the recreational and vocational needs of young people.

INCREASED PRODUCTION OF FOOD

The world is short of food. The safety of the nation and the outcome of the war depend largely upon our ability to increase the crops. This is an urgent national duty. The suburban and rural churches may well call the people together to consider community plans to this end.

PREVENTION OF WASTE

In face of the world need, extravagance and luxury are criminal, but productive business should be maintained at its fullest possible capacity. The simple life, which is a permanent obligation for the followers of Jesus, becomes in this emergency an imperative necessity. The women of the churches may well get together to consider and recommend sound economies in food and clothing.

INDUSTRIAL STANDARDS

The labor power of the nation must be conserved or the needed increase in production cannot be secured, as England has discovered. The industrial standards set up by the Federal Council and its constituent bodies must be maintained. All cases of seven-day work, of lengthened working day, of the employment of children and young people under sixteen, or of women in the new hazardous industries. should at once be reported to local authorities or to the National Council of Defense.

JUSTICE IN DISTRIBUTION

The churches should stimulate the community conscience to demand that all speculation in the necessities of life be eliminated, that all attempts to secure unjust profits be checked and that the hoarding of food-stuffs be prevented. Government action to this end should be heartily supported.

THE COST OF WAR

The burden of war cost must be evenly distributed. The principle of universal service has been applied to life in the raising of troops. It should therefore be applied in the same manner to wealth and ability.

SAFEGUARDING DEMOCRACY

If we are to advance democracy throughout the earth we must first exemplify it in the nation. It must not be denied, either in industry or in government. Even in the strain of war, the abuse of free speech is not so dangerous as its suppression, and nothing should be permitted to destroy the dearly bought right of freedom of conscience. One of the patriotic duties of the Christian pulpit is continuously to develop in the people the determination that this war shall end in nothing less than such a constructive peace as shall be the beginning of a world democracy.

It was VOTED: To authorize the General Secretary to publish the proceedings of the Council in a pamphlet and to publish the full reports and addresses in a volume, to be entitled "The Church in Time of War."

It was VOTED: That the message comprehended under the heading "Our Spirit and Purpose" be conveyed to the constituent bodies for their consideration and approval.

It was VOTED: That the following committee be constituted to represent the Federal Council in the Joint Committee to cooperate with a similar committee of the War Work Council of the International Committee of the Young Men's Christian Associations, on the Moral and Religious Welfare of the Army and Navy:

Rev. William I. Haven, Chairman;
Professor William Adams Brown,
John M. Glenn,
Rev. Charles S. Macfarland,
Rev. Worth M. Tippy.

It was VOTED: That the committee, through its chairman, be instructed to communicate immediately with the War Work Council of the International Committee of the Young Men's Christian Associations conveying information of the appointment of this committee and requesting a joint conference at the earliest possible moment upon the matters concerned.

It was VOTED: That in regard to the proposed message from the Federal Council to soldiers and sailors, this be referred to the Joint Committee to prepare and send the same to soldiers and sailors.

It was VOTED: That the report on Works of Mercy be referred to Associate Secretary Worth M. Tippy, and the Commission on the Church and Social Service.

It was VOTED: That the letter regarding food shortage should be referred to Secretary Worth M. Tippy.

It was VOTED: That the General Secretary prepare and send to the governors of states the report of the Committee on the Army and Navy.

It was VOTED: That in regard to the Temperance Publicity Campaign, we approve the plan and purpose, and that Mr. Stelzle be empowered to carry it out in consultation with his Advisory Committee, provided we are involved in no financial expense.

It was VOTED: That in regard to an advisory committee for war, this be referred to the Joint Committee already appointed on the Army and Navy.

It was VOTED: That all matters regarding the appointment of chaplains and their welfare be referred to the Washington Committee and in executive charge of Secretary Worth M. Tippy.

It was VOTED: That in regard to the appointing of a day of prayer, this matter be deferred for future consideration.

It was VOTED: To adjourn.
